When seen by a Times-Dispatch man yesterday evening he was in good spirite. He had rested well and was reading a copy of a New York daily. He had spent Sunday in reading The Times-Dispatch and talking with visitors. His door was not locked and he had access to the jail corridors. He did not take advantage of this privilege, however, but remained in his room.

This is about the best I can get here, he said, "and of course I am going to make the most of it. For a long time have been so busy that I have been mable to keep up with the news and litrature of the day. But now I intend to smillarize myself with all the late books at the happenings of the day, and when am out I hope to be able to converse a litrate."

(By Associated Press.)
HAVANA, Aug. 3.—General Maximo
Jomez, chairman of the committee deala list of the revolutionary soldiers untitled to pay.

In an interview with the Associated Press correspondent, General Gomez stated that the list consists of about 50,000 soldiers, and does not include civil employes. He believes that the pending

50,000 soldiers, and does not include civil employes. He believes that the pending loan will not cover more than half the claims, and anticipates that the Cuban Congress will provide for the payment of the balance in some form of due bill, payable with interest after a considerable interval, and probably discountable and transferrable.

The General says the work of his commission is final. General Gomez said the rate of wages allowed to an ordinary soldier is one dollar a day during the perfods of his service. Sergeants and commissioned officers are separately computed, the amounts allowed ranging from a few hundred dollars to $20,000, the latter sum being allowed to himself as commander-in-chief. The pay of many generals and colonels is fixed at $10,000 and upwards. The majority of the privates will receive in the vicinity of $500, indicating two and a half years' service. General Gomez said the total altogether exceeds the commission's expectations, but the claims were reviewed so carefully that there is no doubt as to their justice.

The decidedly unpopular idea entertained by the soldier element that the army will be paid in full does not find much credence in administration circles. The total amount of the claims has caused some surprise, and the matter is at present in an indefinite shape, but it is not believed that the government will see its way advisable to 82 beyond paying the veterans a proportion of their claims.
